Man Found Shot on N. Y. Liner Here

Tragedy and mystery again stalked "B" deck aboard the New York-Boston liner, New York, that arrived here today.

Dead in his stateroom, his body clad only in blue bathing trunks, ship's officers found a man registered with the purser as "Frank Córso."

He had been shot through the head with a .38 calibre pistol. The weapon, one cartridge exploded, lay on the bed by his side.

Missing, apparently all thrown out the stateroom window, was all the man's clothing. Missing also was a heavy, brown leather bag that the man brought aboard ship with him—a bag so heavy that porter who carried it remarked,

"It was like lead—or gold."

HAIRPINS FOUND

In the death stateroom, police found several hairpins, although the steward who attended him said the man occupied the state-

Move to Purge Ballot In New York of 'Reds'

By E. F. TOMPKINS

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, July 5—As a consequence of testimony before a legislative investigating committee by Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party of the United States, lawmakers of New York will be asked to enact measures to outlaw all alien or international organizations from participating as legal political parties in any election in this state.

Browder himself provided the basis for the proposed legislation in his testimony.

At present, the Communist party has legal standing in a number of states on the same basis as the Republican or Democratic parties, and in 1936 Browder was its presidential nominee.

In the party, Browder holds the same title as Josef Stalin holds in the Communist party of Soviet Russia.

Like Stalin, he is a member of the Communist International, which is seated in Moscow.

He took part in the 1935 convention of the Comintern as a delegate from this country, and has visited Moscow since then for

Makes 4 Seeking Nomination

Former Gov. James M. Curley today took out papers for nomination as a Democratic gubernatorial candidate in the September primaries.

At the same time he declared he would issue a campaign statement later in the week, possibly on Thursday or Friday.

The application for the nomination papers was made at the office of William N. Hardy, director of the division of elections at the State House by Michael "Subsy" Sullivan of South Boston.

The entrance of the former governor into the gubernatorial lists brings to four the number in the battle for the Democratic nomination.

Others who have already announced their candidacy are Lieut. Gov. Francis E. Kelly and Howard Haines Murphy, whom Gov. Hurley deposed recently as commissioner of agriculture.

Gov. Hurley is expected to join the scramble when the Legislature convenes. Tradition forbids that he become a candidate until the General Court has dissolved for the current session.

party conferences with the Russian Communist leaders.

Browder therefore was subpoenaed before the New York joint legislative committee not only in his role of party secretary in the United States, but also in his capacity as one of the "Comintern"—a man obviously familiar with the formation and operations of both organizations.

Senator John J. McNaboe, chairman of the legislative committee, asked Browder this incisive question:

"Is that part of the Communist party which exists in the United States a part and parcel of the Communist International in Moscow. A world-wide organization looking to the teaching of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin."

Browder replied:
"That is correct."

BARE ALIEN PARTIES

Senator McNaboe's question and Browder's reply are regarded as utterly refuting the pretensions of the Browderites that the Communist Party is a bonafide American political organization entitled to hold a place on American election ballots.

For—it is pointed out—none of the historic American political parties have ever had any kind of foreign or international alliances or affiliations.

And—until Russian Communism invaded America—such an idea was unheard of.

If the Communist party—a "part and parcel" of the Communist International—is allowed to function in America as a "legal" political party, what—it is argued—can prevent a Nazi party and a Fascist party—both with alien and international allegiances—from obtaining similar representation on American election ballots?

NEW SITUATION

This is a new situation, which the existing laws do not touch.

And so—for the same sound reasons why ALIEN PERSONS cannot participate as citizens in our elections—it is now proposed to prohibit by law any ALIEN ORGANIZATIONS or "PARTIES" from participating.

In New York State, a constitutional convention is now being held. This convention will be asked to make such participation constitutionally impossible.

If the convention does not do so, the issue will be carried before the legislature in January for statutory action. In any public hearings that may be held, of course, Browder's testimony before the McNaboe committee will be available.

Dies Urges All To Fight 'Isms'

WASHINGTON, July 5 (INS)—Agents of foreign powers are laboring tirelessly to destroy the foundations of American government, Rep. Martin Dies (D.) of Texas, declared today in a nationwide radio address.

Chairman of a special House committee created to investigate un-American activities, the Texan sounded an urgent call for a strong nationalistic move to offset efforts of enemies to tear down American doctrines and institutions.

"Today Americanism is being challenged by enemies within and enemies without," he asserted.

"There are insidious forces at work within our country who are seeking to undermine the foundation of American democracy. These political termites are tirelessly gnawing at the pillars of the republic.

"Regardless of how false and dangerous are the political philosophies of the Communist, the Nazi and Fascist, candor compels us to concede that the proponents of these philosophies are fired with fanatical zeal and enthusiasm."

Browder Proves the Case Against Communism

THE AMAZING effrontery of Communism in penetrating to the foundations of public service in America, and even into schools and hospitals, has been stripped of all doubt.

Not by the enemies of Communism has this exposure been made, but by the man who frankly admits his willingness to be the STALIN OF AMERICA.

With complete candor, Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, testified before the McNaboe investigating committee of the New York legislature:

That Communist units exist in the municipal building, the state office building and a home relief office in New York city.

That they exist in the City College of New York, in the Teachers' College of Columbia University, in Brooklyn College (where a Communist Karl Marx Forum was chartered on the same day an R. O. T. C. Club was denied a charter), in Evander Childs high school and in the Cornell University Medical School.

That they exist in Bellevue Hospital and Morristown Hospital in New York city.

Coming on the heels of previous testimony by Mr. Browder that the Communist party is PART AND PARCEL of the Communist international in Moscow and has NEVER REFUSED TO ABIDE BY ITS DECISIONS, these staggering revelations BARE THE WHOLE, MONSTROUS SYSTEM OF SOVIET SABOTAGE IN THIS COUNTRY.

BROWDER MAKES IT OFFICIAL that Communism is undermining of American institutions 'TIES UP TO MOSCOW.

Appalled indeed must be those misguided Americans who have thought Communism a MYTH.

Awakened indeed must be those who have thought the exposures of Communism by the Hearst newspapers to be unjustifiable RED BAITING.

Patriotic organizations in the United States have long been making EXACTLY THESE SAME REVELATIONS about Communist activities.

Now Mr. Browder ADMITS AND BRAGS ABOUT THEM, confesses and boasts of the perversion of public office, schools and hospitals.

The Hearst newspapers are glad to have this confirmation of their exposures of Communism from Mr. Browder, not only because it emphasizes the truth and accuracy of the statements long published in the Hearst newspapers but particularly because the shocking revelation of Communist activity and disloyalty will SPEED THE BUILDING UP OF AN ADEQUATE PATRIOTIC DEFENSE AGAINST COMMUNISM IN THE UNITED STATES.

We have never doubted that Americans would reject Communism if they could be CONVINCED OF ITS DANGER.

It has been the earnest endeavor of all patriotic American organizations, our own included, to convince them of its imminent danger.

WHAT MORE DOES AMERICA NOW NEED TO BE CONVINCED?

French, Job on Merry-Go-Round

Tucky's Pa Baffles Boss

That Brighton golf-range job was ready for wealthy Ellen "Tucky" Astor's social-rebel dad, Francis Ormond French, today—but whether French was ready for the job was the question.

Sullivan Note On Stork List

STORK NEAR!

Beautiful Margaret Sullivan is about to become a mother, according to word from Hollywood. This was revealed when it became known that Margaret would not be available to play opposite Robert Taylor in "Northwest Passage." Leland Hayward, socialite aviator, is her husband.

Though there has been no official announcement, Old Man Stork today was reported marking time near the home of Margaret Sullivan, glamorous Virginia film star who once flashed her smile over the counters of the Harvard Co-operative Society's store in Cambridge.

News of the expected birth came from Louella Parsons, ace Boston Evening American movie columnist, who declared her source reliably authentic. She explained this fact was the reason Margaret will not play opposite Robert Taylor in "Northwest Passage" and will cancel all picture plans for the near future.

Margaret, whose third husband is Leland Hayward, socialite aviator-theatrical manager, already has a daughter one year old. It was this "act of God" that closed her New York play "Stage Door."

The independent Miss Sullivan (or Mrs. Heyward) started on her road to fame through the University Theater on the Cape. Between her early theatrical ventures she worked as clerk at the Harvard "Co-op" and displayed the same easy "don't give a darn" attitude that later prompted her to defy Hollywood by wearing overalls and sneakers in the swank colony.

On the way up the stage and film ladder she wed Henry Fonda, himself a film star, and William Wyler, picture director. Both these matrimonial tries ended in divorce.

In November, 1936, she skipped up to Newport, R. I., with Hayward, who had been married to, divorced from, married again to, and again divorced from Inez Gibbs, Gotham debutante. In a quiet, unpublicized ceremony the pair entered into the third, and apparently successful, marriage for each.

First a telegram, saying he had "made other arrangements," was sent by French to his prospective boss, Edward C. "Ted" Madden, who had expected him to report for work at 3 p. m.

Meanwhile, talking by telephone from his Middletown, R. I. home, French told the Boston Evening American:

"Everything's off for two days. Then we'll see."

"VERY EMBARRASSING"

"No, I haven't lost the job. Or, at least, I don't think so. I had a very pleasant phone chat with Mr. Madden.

"All I can say now is that everything's off for two days. No further comment.

"But it's very embarrassing. So much 'uss, you know, over one man and one job."

Then, after Madden denying he had any telephone call from French, had practically given up, expecting his new employee, he received another wire. It read:

DELAY UNTIL TUESDAY

"Moving delays will make it impossible to arrive until Tuesday afternoon."

And inasmuch as this is Tuesday, Madden was slightly baffled about it all.

At first, of course, French's job will be merely to shag balls hit in his direction. As time goes on, however, he will be required to chase balls hit in all directions, and those that are lost, too.

But that is only the beginning. Madden, who offered French the job when the WPA refused him a pick and shovel tenure in Newport because they feared he was being supported by son-in-law John Jacob, sees possibilities in his new employee.

"I hired him because I read in the newspapers he was willing to do anything as long as he got work," Madden said. "I expect him to do very well. Of course, he may easily be promoted beyond shagging balls.

"I don't see why he isn't suited for an executive position of some sort, a public relations man, perhaps. However, we'll have to wait and see about that."

FRENCH ENTHUSED

And French, who once shocked his Harvard Club associates by driving a New York taxicab and who has kept Newport society on edge, well—

"I'm going up to Boston and work like —" he enthused. "It's going to be good to work again. I expect to take a room in a Boston boarding house for $3 a week or so and save a lot of money and pay off my debts."

$240 Hidden In Bed Goes as Couple Sleep

Charles Fletcher, White place, Bookline, a gasoline filling station employee, reported to police today that $240 was stolen from under the mattress on a bed in which both he and his wife were sleeping.

All but $15 of the money belonged to the gas station, Fletcher said. He stated he and his wife "felt queer" on awakening, and he expressed the belief some drug was used by the thief to make sure they did not awaken while the money was being taken.

Fights to See Van Wyck

HARTFORD BOUND—Dancing-model Mozelle Stapp Van Wyck today declared she is going to Hartford, Ct., in an effort to get a court order that will allow her to see her sculptor-husband, Prescott Van Wyck, who has been committed to an institution for the insane. "I still love him," she said.

Delay Battle Between Van Wyck's Wife, Mother

HARTFORD, Ct., July 5 (INS)

The battle between beautiful Mozelle Stapp Van Wyck, wife of Prescott Van Wyck, sculptor and son of a prominent New York family, and the mother of the artist, to be named conservator of Van Wyck's estate, has been postponed until Thursday before Probate Judge Walter H. Clark. It was learned today.

Van Wyck, a patient in a Hartford sanitarium since June 4, was reported by doctors to be suffering from a chronic, manic depressive condition. Commitment papers were signed on June 25 by Judge Clark after Van Wyck was examined by Dr. H. A. Bancroft and Dr. Thomas C. Carey.

Unaware of the postponement of the hearing, the one-time model of the artist who married him in the spring of 1937 and 28 days later filed a separation suit, was reported in Hartford on her way to visit her husband.

NEW YORK, July 5 (INS) — Mozelle Stapp Van Wyck is going to be out in the cold all during the long, hot summer as a result of a decision today by Supreme Court Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer.

He granted the appointment of a special guardian to decide whether Prescott Van Wyck, the wealthy artist husband of Mozelle, is insane.

Determination of that sanity question is certain to take months. Meantime, Mozelle, can obtain neither the alimony nor counsel fees she asked in a separation suit charging cruelty, filed two months ago.

Ready to Launch Housing Project

The Boston Housing Authority today prepared plans for building of the Charlestown project, awaiting only the signing by Governor Hurley of the Massachusetts Housing Act to conform with national legislation to set its machinery in motion.

The first step, Chairman John A. Breen said, will be to get Washington's official approval of the money earmarked for the project.

Miss Anna Egan, 55, of Rockland road, Medford, was in critical condition at Lawrence Memorial Hospital, Medford, today from burns suffered when her clothing became ignited from the kitchen stove.

Boom Grows in N. E.

Shoe, Textile Trades Busy

A national drive for recovery gained momentum today as New England authorities on economic trends readily admitted an upturn in buying power, commodities and employment.

Everywhere the battle slogan was "co-operation."

Dun and Bradstreet, nationally famous credit agency, had a special report today on New England business conditions and it was:

"Cotton and woolen textiles in New England are becoming more active and the shoe and leather industry is making seasonal gains.

TEXTILES ACTIVE

"Last week the market for cotton textiles became very active, upwards of 200,000,000 yards of gray goods exchanged hands and prices advanced 1/2 a cent's a yard. Following this large turnover the demand for finished cotton goods expanded rapidly.

"Print cloths sold in substantial quantities."

Howard S. Knowlton, New England editor of Business Week, reported the conclusions of the trade and financial publication:

SLUMP NEAR END

"There is more and more reason to believe that this summer will see, possibly has already seen, the bottom point of industrial activity, and that the last half of the year will be marked by at least a fair degree of revival led by the consumer's goods."

"The rise in the stock market has been largely the result of a growing feeling that the depression is practically at the bottom. "Booming stock prices, accompanied by what in these days must be considered heavy volume of turnover, inevitably make for a better psychology even among those without any direct interest in the market."

Roosevelt Acts to Speed Upswing

WASHINGTON, July 5 (INR)—Reported cheered by signs his fast recovery drive already is having effect, President Roosevelt today resumed work on plans which will guide his $3,750,000,000 spend-lead program after he sets out Thursday for the Pacific coast.

Despite the holiday President Roosevelt plunged into problems of the battle to turn the economic tide. One of his first moves was to summon Lowell Mellette, director of the National Emergency Council.

The executive and the director conferred at length. It was understood their discussion dealt with a conference which Mellette, an order of the President, has called to discuss with 20 Southern leaders means by which the spend-lead funds can best be applied in the South.

Indications were seen that similar regional conferences with leaders of other sections may be called if the meeting with the southerners proves successful.

Solons Defy Hurley Edict

Both branches of the legislature met today to defy Governor Hurley on his ultimatum that they stay in session all summer.

The Senate met for 24 seconds—without quorum.

The House meeting developed into a debate between Speaker Horace T. Cahill and Representative Edward T. Brady of Somerville—and then adjourned after 10 minutes.

Tabled without action was an order filed as a "peace move" by Representative Thomas J. Hannon, Democrat, of Boston.

He proposed formation of a committee of five Republicans and four Democrats to confer with the Governor on present controversial issues.

Governor Hurley's ultimatum was the result of rejection by both branches of his move for bond issues which he "aimed" was for the purposes of unemployment relief.

Brady, a Democrat, accused Republican Speaker Cahill of "unfairness" in allowing adjournment after 10 minutes and became involved in a heated argument with the Speaker.

Two of the governor's vetoes were read at the "skelton" House session. One was a resolve in favor of the widow of Archibald D. Turner, former member of the Metropolitan district committee on police, which the governor had returned on the ground that the attorney-general's office had ruled it unconstitutional.

The other was an act to further regulate appointments in the classified civil service.

No action was taken on either.

ROW OVER ADJOURNMENT

Speaker Cahill then stated that, on motion of Christian A. Herter, Republican floor leader, the House would meet tomorrow for an informal session, omitting the calendar.

A brief recess was then called and Speaker Cahill announced that on motion of Representative Brady, the House would adjourn.

Brady, seated in the front row, jumped to his feet and said:

"As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, I didn't move adjournment."

HUNT AT COMPROMISE

Speaker Cahill nodded to Representative Philip T. Bowker of Brookline, a Republican, also in a front row seat, and Bowker moved adjournment.

In the House lobby, directly after the session, Republican leaders openly stated that they were willing to stay all summer to defeat the governor's objectives.

It was generally believed that the governor would send in another relief program either today or tomorrow in an effort at compromise.

Fans Loom As Costumes At Art Ball

ROCKPORT, July 5 (INS)—Members of the art colony here, who have gone native, Greek or Roman, at the annual artists' ball, will bow this year to the more conventional American garb.

That is the official edict of the Rockport Art Association, now planning for their August carnival.

"There's never been any place for bohemia here, who have gone native, Greek or Roman," said Aldro T. Hibbard, member of the National Academy and president of the association, announcing the new rules for the ball.

Chief of Police John E. Sullivan, who has observed the artists for nearly half a century, declared:

"They're all my friends, and no worse than anybody else."

131 DIE IN JAP FLOODS

TOKYO, July 5 (INS)—Floods in the vicinity of Kobe have taken a toll of 131 lives with at least 300 persons missing. In Kobe 100,000 houses are submerged and the death toll is expected to increase.

Hypnotist Held in Death Of Woman

GLENDAL, Cal., July 5 (INS)—

Police contained in a powerful drug administered to a 23-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Marie Colombos, while she was under the hypnotic spell of Robert Avery Gilbert, 49, caused her death, police declared today.

And Gilbert, for 27 years a vaudeville hypnotist, who last month figured in Los Angeles in a "hypnotic, painless childbirth" that attracted wide attention, was booked on suspicion of murder.

After hours of grilling Gilbert admitted to police in a signed statement that he was with the pretty Colombos woman on last Thursday when she died in her home. But he insisted that neither hypnotism nor any act of his had anything to do with her death.

According to the dead woman's husband, George Colombos, Gilbert had represented himself as being able to make painless his wife's expected birth of a child six months hence.

But police, piecing together their case against the former vaudeville headliner, say he went to the Colombos home for another purpose—to prevent the expected baby's birth.

Children Study At Radcliffe

What is probably the youngest group of college summer students in the United States today took over the Radcliffe campus for a six-weeks' course.

The juveniles, ranging in age from 5 to 13, are the sons and daughters of Greater Boston professors and professional men. They will absorb plenty of sunshine in their outdoor classes.

Sponsored in 1932 by the Radcliffe Play Group, the summer courses have grown more popular each year. Today 40 youngsters started a five-day week of kindergarten, interspersed with modified athletics and manual arts.

The play group is supervised by the Misses Eleanor McCormack and Martha Taylor, both Radcliffe graduates. The work also furnishes summer employment for several Radcliffe undergraduates majoring in social service courses.

Summer School Opens at Harvard

"Moving-in" was the order of the day in Harvard Yard today with the opening of summer school.

Although the girls dominated the landscape, the summer school is co-educational.

DISNEY, Okla., July 5 (AP)—Mighty "Ripper" Davis made good his boast—his tree-fighting champion of this Grand river valley boom town.

He hurled Wild Red Angelo, who called himself an untamed and uncrowned brass knuckle expert, out of a big oak tree yesterday. Several thousand perspiring visitors, raucously celebrating Disney's first July 4, roared approval.

Paul Kenneth Burbine, 18, of Center street, Wakefield, for whom 50 state troopers, members of the Civilian Conservation Corps and Boy Scouts have been scouring the North Wilmington woods since Friday night dropped nonchalantly home today.

His pretty 20-year-old sweetheart, Charlotte Doucette, of Mystic avenue, Wilmington, was seen at the Burbine home.

His mother said: "It has been a awful ordeal—not knowing what happened." Burbine's car was found wrecked near a tree on the Andover line in North Wilmington.

Wife Retains Leibowitz in River Death

SOUTH HADLEY, July 5—While a New York dancer was being sought today for questioning as a key figure in the slaying of Charles Morris, racetrack man, John Paul Bathelt, indicted for the murder, was notified by his wife that she had retained Samuel S. Leibowitz, noted criminal lawyer, as his defense counsel.

The cement-encased body of Morris was found here two weeks ago floating in the Connecticut river. Bathelt, 28-year-old son of a wealthy Holyoke contractor, is in Northampton jail awaiting trial for the slaying.

New York and Massachusetts detectives planned to question the dancer in the hope she may throw some light on the puzzling murder. She is known to have been friendly with Morris. Bathelt's partner in racetrack dealings, and police think she may furnish them with information vital to the case.

When her New York apartment was located yesterday it was found she was away for the holiday but would return today.

Meanwhile, police declared that the flooring covering the stairway leading to the camp kitchen under which Morris' body was buried before being disinterred and cast into the river was laid three months ago, by lantern light, by a young Holyoke man, friend of Bathelt.

CIO HEARING POSTPONED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 5 (AP)—Hearing in the injunction suit against Joseph Sylvia, ousted CIO leader, and two other former officials of the organization today was continued for one week after an agreement between counsel.

Huge Bergs Sighted in Ship Lanes

FROM ITALY—Paula Kalloch of Camden, Me., gives the photographer a smile today upon her return aboard the S.S. Exochorda after a six weeks' tour of Italy.

(Boston Evening American Photo)

Huge icebergs far south in the shipping lanes were disclosed today after a week-end which saw a large homecoming of ocean voyagers.

More than 50 passengers returned on the United States liner American Importer, whose officers reported they were forced into the southern lanes by the presence of large bergs floating down from the Arctic sea.

Among those debarking here were Mrs. Hilda Maddock of Springfield, and her children, Phyllis and James.

The Lake Drake brought back 107 passengers after a month-long cruise to the tropics. One honeymoon couple were on board, returning from Bermuda. They were Dr. Charles E. Scribner of Medford and his bride, the former Miss Irene Zacharis of West Medford.

Among those sailing from this port were 50 delegates to the annual convention of the International Radio Club, who left on the Eastern Steamship Line's steamer St. John for Halifax, N. S., the convention city.

U. S. Citizenship Petitions Increase

An increase of 46 per cent the past year in the petitions for citizenship, was reported in the federal building today.

Mary A. Ward, commissioner of immigration and naturalization, stated that 11,500 names have been added during the past year to the rolls of prospective citizens. Only 777 petitions were filed the previous year.

New England Leads Nation For Sane 4th

New England led the nation in a "safe and sane" Fourth, a final checkup revealed today. No New England fatality due to fireworks was reported.

A total of 25 persons lost their lives in New England, however, in drowning and motor accidents during the three-day holiday, but even this death toll was the lowest in history.

For the nation 513 holiday deaths were reported. Only three were due to fireworks, and all of these were fatalities of the home-made variety. New York led with 39 deaths; Pennsylvania was second with 33; Michigan, third, 27; Illinois, fourth, 26.

Most spectacular death reported in New England was that of Bob Torrey, 25, Saco, Me., killed when his racing auto went out of control on the track at Topfield fair grounds.

Youngest drowning victim was 16-months-old Thomas J. Aguinto, West Medway, who fell into shallow water at Watson Lake, Me. Other drowning victims included seven-year-old Girard Baril, Woonsocket, R. I.; Auguste Dolron, 20, Westbrook, Me.; and Edward Bonner, 16, Adams street, Brighton.

Police on Cabs In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, July 5 (INS)—The Yellow Cab Company resumed operations today after being tied up since Friday afternoon by a strike of CIO organized drivers.

A detail of 240 policemen was on hand at the company office and as drivers left for the day's work policemen climbed into the cabs.

Company officials said many of the men reporting for work were old employees.

Judge Wayne G. Borah today continued until July 15 hearing on a petition of the CIO seeking to have police restrained from interfering with its members in a CIO labor organizing campaign here.

Joseph W. Lovell, 35, CIO organizer who was arrested yesterday on a charge of "attempting to incite a riot" in connection with the taxi drivers' strike, was released today.

Waban Man Hurt In Pikes Peak Fall

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 5 (AP)—Thomas Hamilton of Waban, Mass., slipped today on ice-crusted snow near the summit of Pike's Peak and tumbled 100 feet down the slope, landing on rocks.

He suffered two deep hand gashes. With friends he was taking pictures on the rim of the slide shortly after sunrise.

Now YOU CAN BUY A
Firestone
Gum-Dipped Tire
FOR AS LITTLE AS $7.60

LIFETIME GUARANTEE

Every tire of our manufacture, bearing our name and serial number, is guaranteed by us to be free from defects in workmanship and material, without limit as to time or mileage, and to give satisfactory service under normal operating conditions. If our examination shows that any tire has failed under the terms of this guarantee, we will either repair the tire or make an allowance on the purchase of a new tire.

FIRESTONE cuts the cost of Tire Safety just at the time when you need a new set of tires. At this time of the year you should replace tires that are worn and smooth for greatest safety during the summer driving season. Tires may look alike on the outside—but inside they are different. The name FIRESTONE on a tire is your assurance of extra safety and long mileage because only Firestone Tires are built with these patented and exclusive construction features:

Gum-Dipping, the Firestone patented process by which every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber, counteracts tire-destroying internal friction and heat which ordinarily cause blowouts. Nine extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord.

Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords under the tread, another patented Firestone construction feature, protect against punctures.

Scientifically-Designed Non-Skid Tread made of tough slow-wearing rubber, assures safer stops and longer non-skid mileage.

Now that Firestone gives you all of these safety and economy features at these low prices, you cannot afford to take chances with unsafe tires this summer. Come in today and join the Firestone Save-A-Life Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Convoy Tires—the safest tires that money can buy at these low prices.

First Leg of World Hop Ends

'Do as I Say, Not as I Do' Is His Idea

PHILADELPHIA, July 5 (AP)—John Facenda, 25, news commentator, warned his listeners in a pre-Independence Day radio broadcast: "Handle fireworks carefully if you handle them at all." The next day a firecracker exploded in his hand. He was treated at a hospital for severe burns.

HOWARD HUGHES

The plane of Howard Hughes, millionaire flier and film producer, touches the ground at Floyd Bennett Field at the end of a leisurely flight. The Lockheed 14, landed, with Hughes at the controls, 7 hours and 15 minutes after the take-off at Wichita. Hughes made immediate preparations for a hop to Paris and a probable 'round the world flight.

Hughes Ready For Sea Hop

NEW YORK, July 5—Howard Hughes, the lanky millionaire from California, is in town wearing a brown felt hat which has seen better days, and presently he is going to fly to Paris just for the experience of flying to Paris.

Whether he will go around the world, he says, depends on how things look when he gets to Europe. The only man who ever has flown to Paris from New York is Charles A. Lindbergh.

Of the many who have circled the world by air, including those in the Graf Zeppelin in 1929, the late Wiley Post made the best elapsed time—7 days, 18 hours.

For two years Hughes, who is known as the only independent movie producer from the "outside" who ever got out of Hollywood with his shirt, has had stores of gasoline buried at strategic points on the globe for just such a flight.

Hughes drifted on to Floyd Bennett airport in his two-motored transport ship last night after a leisurely, one-stop hop across the continent from Burbank, Calif.

He needed a shave and cheerfully admitted it. Never one to make a sartorial display of himself, he wore a gray business coat and dark blue trousers which could have done very nicely with a press.

Flag Chase Costs Boy, 9, Life

FLORAL PARK, N. Y., July 5 (INS)—Nine-year-old Jimmy Doan celebrated Independence Day. But his determination to have an American flag as souvenir of a fireworks display left him dead today.

A rocket shot into the air, a parachute opened and from it dangled an American flag. Jimmy and other boys started in pursuit.

It dropped near some railroad tracks near which policemen were posted. Jimmy, clutching them, slipped over the first rail, fell. His outstretched arm landed on the "live" third rail and Jimmy was electrocuted.

Woman Periled By Stray Bullet

Mrs. Adeline Lamberghini, 45, Bremen street, East Boston, narrowly escaped death or injury early today when a .38 calibre bullet, apparently fired by a belated Fourth of July celebrant, came through the window of her home as she stood looking out into the street.

A daughter, Alice, 21, likewise had crossed the line of fire only a moment previously. Mrs. Lamberghini told police she knew of no reason for anyone to shoot deliberately at her.

Cambridge Girl Sought For Aid In Murder Case

Police today asserted they had tentatively identified a Cambridge girl as one whose name was found in the diary of Lewis A. Nelson, 29, brutally murdered on June 19 near Williamsport, Pa.

Inspector Joseph O'Connor of the Cambridge force today reported he had located a family on Everett street where he was informed the daughter had recently secured a job in a cafe on the North Shore. Pennsylvania authorities, probing his murder said Nelson had been in Boston in May.

Chief Inspector H. E. McElroy of the Pennsylvania state police has communicated with Cambridge authorities to ask their aid in locating the girl in the hope that she may be able to throw some light on Nelson's movements and companions when he was visiting Boston and Cambridge.

Roosevelt Sees 'Dictator' Board At Tour Start

WASHINGTON, July 5 (INS)—As he prepared to depart on his trans-continental tour, President Roosevelt today called his old government reorganization board to the White House for a conference.

Presence on the presidential engagement list of Chairman Louis Brownlow, Luther Gulick and Charles Merriam—the three men who drafted the reorganization set-up which Congress rejected last session—gave rise to speculation that President Roosevelt might revive that issue on his Western swing.

At lunch today the President conferred with Harcourt Morgan and David Lilienthal, TVA directors. Sidney Hillman, CIO labor leader who was informally proposed last week as a candidate for the Senate from New York on the labor party ticket, was another White House caller.

Too Faithful

Dog Attacks 2 Trying To Revive Suicide

CHICAGO, July 5 (INS)—Efforts to revive William Henry Froby, a suicide, sent two other members of his family to a hospital today with severe injuries.

Froby hanged himself in the basement of his home. His wife cut the rope and with their daughter, Ida Belle, 13, began efforts at resuscitation.

Froby's dog, Spot, a family pet, became infuriated and attacked Mrs. Froby and Ida Belle. Police arrived only after deep lacerations had been inflicted upon both.

NEWARK, N. J., July 5 (AP)—Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, said today he would ask President Roosevelt to order the Department of Justice to investigate his complaints against two Jersey City police officials whom he has charged with kidnaping under the Federal Lindbergh law.

PROVIDENCE, July 5 (AP)—Federal internal revenue collections, customs receipts, and postal receipts in Rhode Island decreased in June compared with a year ago, reports showed today.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5 (INS)—Senator Frederick Van Nuys, outstanding opponent of President Roosevelt's court reorganization plan, today accepted an invitation from Governor M. Clifford Townsend to seek renomination at the Democratic state convention here next week. Van Nuys, who for many months was opposed to renomination by the Indiana statehouse organization, sent word to friends here he would be "very glad" to accept the bid.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., July 5 (AP)—Peter Gildea, 26, of Montreal and Irving P. Watson, 22, of Lyndonville, drowned in Willoughby lake, where they were spearfishing. The double fatality was revealed today when Watson's body was found near shore. Gildea's body was not found.

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 5 (AP)—Breasting the treacherous surf at Copalis Beach astride a big white horse, Lars Larson threw a lariat to three youths and rescued them yesterday. A fourth apparently drowned.

The boys were caught in an undertow and carried 400 feet out beyond the breakers.

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The War Department approved today plans of the Maine-New Hampshire interstate bridge authority for a vertical lift highway and railroad bridge across the Piscataqua river between Kittery, Me., and Portsmouth, N. H.

2 Errors Loom, 'Lefty' June May Reunite

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—Out of his baseball slump, Vernon ("Lefty") Gagne, pitching ace of the New York Yankees, has reported something out with his marital hobbles today with his showgirl wife, June O'Dea.

Lawyers for both sides said the couple were seeing each other, and that Miss O'Dea, known as No. 1 Yankee rooter before her separation suit last May, was back in her ball park seat with zealous cheers for "Lefty."

In her suit, Miss O'Dea charged the southpaw hurler with plenty of speed but no control in his home life. Simultaneously, Gagne went into a slump in the pitcher's box.

But apparently he had both angles under control today, and his attorney, Lowell Birrell, admitted the suit might end with nothing more than a couple of errors chalked up.

"I talked with Lefty after the game Sunday, and he said he had been seeing Mrs. Gagne," the attorney said.

"He's never been unfriendly toward her," Melvin Kleeblatt, attorney for Miss O'Dea, said.

"It's a fair assumption that they may get together again."

Aged Man Hurt In Fall from Auto

A fall from the rear of a moving automobile in South Weymouth upon which he had lost his footing today sent Michael Murphy, 76, inmate of a convalescent home, to the hospital with a fractured skull and internal injuries.

The car was driven, police reported, by William Flynn of Church street, Rockland. When Murphy fell he was slightly bumped by a car operated by Lawrence Liefeld, also of Rockland, who was following Flynn in the traffic lane, police said.

Hurling of Steak Cited In Divorce

Testifying that she had gained 12 pounds in weight since her husband left her on August 28, 1937, Mrs. Louise C. Gemma of Lynn today sought a divorce from Carmine Gemma in probate court at Salem on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

The suit was uncontested and Judge John B. Phelan took her petition under advisement.

"He come home on August 28, 1937," Mrs. Gemma testified, "and taking his toothbrush from the bathroom left the house for four months."

WEIGHT GAIN TOLD

"The next time I saw him was on Christmas Day. He seized a plate of steak from the table and hurled it across the room."

"Since he finally left me I have put 12 pounds."

Mrs. Velma DeLaval of Foster street, Gloucester, seeking an uncontested divorce from George A. DeLaval of New York, testified she was married to DeLaval at Gloucester in July, 1927, while he was a chauffeur for a wealthy family.

"We only lived together for three or four weeks," she told Judge Phelan. "One night he failed to come home and the next day I read in the papers that the car he was hired to drive had been found abandoned at Springfield. I have never heard from him since."

The third uncontested suit to be taken under advisement was that of Mrs. Delia Gaudreault of Salem against Anthony Gaudreault.

Mystery Man Found Shot on Liner room alone. Likewise, no one could be found who saw any woman enter or leave the room.

The ship's purser stated the man came aboard at New York and at that time was given an inside cabin.

After the New York got under way, the purser said, the man asked to have his quarters changed to an outside room, and was given the stateroom on "B" deck.

No one was found who heard the shot fired. Medical Examiner W. J. Brickley stated that, in his opinion, when found the man had been dead between eight and ten hours, which would place the time of the shooting at shortly after the hour the New York cleared from New York.

When found the victim's body was clad only in a pair of trousers. All of his clothing had disappeared, apparently thrown out of the stateroom window—a "real window," not a porthole—to destroy any clue to his identity.

HINT NAME CHANGED

For this reason police here said they were inclined to believe "Frank Cora," the name signed to the ship's register, was not the victim's true name.

Medical Examiner Brickley, while stating that indications "pointed to" suicide, refused to call it officially either suicide or murder.

"It is too early to say," he declared.

Investigators' curiosity centered upon the strangely heavy brown leather bag the man was known to have brought aboard. Just what it may have contained, and whether it too was thrown out of the stateroom window into Long Island Sound, were questions on which, it was believed, hinged the whole mystery.

Today's tragedy was the second within the past seven days to occur aboard the New York and on the vessel's "B" deck. Last week, a man jumped or fell from "B" deck, likewise en route to Boston from New York, and was drowned.

Seven Saved In Drifting Motorboat

The dramatic rescue of seven persons from a 30-foot launch whose motor became disabled in yesterday's rough seas was told here today when the survivors were towed ashore by a coast guard patrol boat after a sleepless night of drifting.

Herbert Furness of Melrose left the Chelsea Yacht Club yesterday afternoon with six companions, bound for a holiday cruise.

Early in the evening, when the launch was far out in the bay, the motor went dead.

MOTHER STARTS HUNT

As the night wore on the launch drifted further and further from shore and began to toss in the choppy waters. When dark had fallen the vessel's occupants could barely distinguish shore lights.

When Furness failed to return home, his mother notified Chelsea police, who got in touch with Coast Guard headquarters. The patrol boat AB 38 was dispatched to the search and after several hours of cruising located the launch, which had drifted closer to land with the incoming tide.

WORKS ALL NIGHT

Those on the craft had been fighting throughout the night to start the motors.

The AB 38 removed Furness and his companions and took the disabled cruiser in tow.

The survivors were landed in East Boston, not seriously affected by their experience.

Count's Threats, Tears

5 Million Divorce Price

tween the couple. He testified that the count schemed to kidnap his son, boasted of his pistol marksmanship, threatened to "put Barbara on the spot" and demanded $5,000,000 as a settlement.

The startled courtroom heard a letter from the countess read. In the missive, she broke off completely with the count and asked him never to try to see her again.

The couple met in dramatic circumstances today, however, when the first full story of the rupture in their marital relationship was told and the count was released again in $10,000 bail for further hearing July 10.

DISCLOSES COUNT'S RAGES

Mitchell painted an unflattering picture of the Danish nobleman and hinted darkly of his jealousy and suspiciousness. At times, the witness said, the count was "unbalanced" and "sterned with anger" when discussing the unnamed man whose role in the domestic tragedy was woven into the testimony.

The peevish-haired, black-clad Westworth heiress kept her sad, crumpled ever on the back of her husband's head as her attorneys declared she had threatened to "put her on the spot" and had laughed at a proffered gift of $250,000 as "an insult."

The hearing was adjourned until July 10. Today's testimony was on the countess' charges that her husband had placed her in fear of her life or bodily harm.

He was released again on bail

Babs' Farewell Note to Count

LONDON, July 5.—Countess Barbara Hutton, Baroness Westworth's letter of parting to her husband, Count Axel, is set for Mitchell to the Bow street court today was as follows:

"Dear Kurt:

"I have received your letter, which makes it even more difficult to say what I have to say. Now that I have had time to think things over I feel more strongly than before that your attitude after last year and especially during the last few weeks has made it impossible for me to go on living with you.

"I don't want in this letter to go into details and recriminations which must be hurtful to both of us. We have had all that out already. Rather I want to say I hope you are well and that I want you to have a happy life just as I wanted for myself.

"Together this is impossible, as I realize now. I don't want you to have any hard feelings about me and I have not got any about you.

"I send you all my good wishes. There is one thing I want to ask of you: do not ask or try to see me again. At this stage you will think this unkind of me, but on reflection you will realize that I am right, as any further meeting will only make things more difficult.

"I hope and believe you will realize that what I am saying now is what I really think and believe. No one has influenced me in the slightest. As regards details I am leaving all this to Mr. Mitchell, whom I have asked to give you this letter. I shall be reasonable and I know that you will be also. With all my best wishes,

"Always affectionately,

"BARBARA."

of £2000 ($10,000), as in the case of his first hearing last Friday immediately after returning from France to face his wife's charges.

The "witness" Sir Patrick Hutton, former king's counselor, and Solicitor William M. Mitchell, attorneys for the Countess, related a long series of threats they said the distraught Count had made in Paris.

They said he talked of a "duel," called his wife obscene names, threatened to seize him son and "give Barbara three years of hell and headlines."

He hinted, too, of suicide, they said, and declared people would blame his wife for driving him to it.

On cross-examination Mitchell testified that the Count was "seriously disturbed" because of "another gentleman" and wanted to know if the Countess would marry him if she got a divorce.

It was Mitchell also who disclosed that the Countess first thought of a settlement of $250,000 ($125,000) on her estranged husband but decided to offer the smaller sum, $250,000, as "a gift."

There also was mention of a letter belonging to the Countess which the Count had taken and which "grieved him very much." Mitchell added that the Count had studied proposals for divorce in Danish.

Tells Blackmail Charge to Count

At another point Mitchell accused the Count of "blackmail" talk and said the Count had told him he made a mistake in signing a "New York deed," by which he renounced a husband's rights to certain of his wife's property.

Wearing a blue serge suit and knee spurs and holding a brief case, the Count, in the testimony, constantly wrote notes and passed them to his attorney, Sir Patrick Hutton.

He looked at the Countess just once. She glanced quickly at the floor as he turned his head and he quickly faced forward again.

The Countess wore a large black hat with a long fragile veil, but she came into court wearing a huge silver fox jacket and discarded it in the study room.

Thriller-drops shook the packed courtroom and men flinched at the skylight as Sir Patrick described the Count as a man of "violent and ungovernable temper."

The Count started and Barbara smiled when Mitchell told how he burst into tears when he read a letter from her.

Mitchell read a letter from the Countess which he had given the Count. In it she said she could not live with him any longer and asked him not to try to see her.

Mitchell said he had been authorized by the Countess to increase the proffered sum from $250,000 to a limit of $500,000.

Questioned by Birckett, he said the count told him he had a letter from a former chauffeur telling him of "happenings" at the countess' Regent's Park mansion since he left London.

$250,000 Laugh, Insult to Count

The count, who became the former Barbara Hutton's second husband a day after she divorced the late Prince Alexis Mdivani at Regent, May 13, 1935, left their London home early in June for Paris.

Soon thereafter she placed a guard around the mansion and went to court to obtain the summons on which today's hearing was held.

Mitchell testified that the Count was "seriously disturbed" because of "another gentleman" and wanted to know if the Countess would marry him if she got a divorce.

It was Mitchell also who disclosed that the Countess first thought of a settlement of $250,000 ($125,000) on her estranged husband but decided to offer the smaller sum, $250,000, as "a gift."

There also was mention of a letter belonging to the Countess which the Count had taken and which "grieved him very much." Mitchell added that the Count had studied proposals for divorce in Danish.

Thriller-drops shook the packed courtroom and men flinched at the skylight as Sir Patrick described the Count as a man of

and said "I shall go straight back to London and shoot him like a dog."

Sir Patrick asserted thirty-five were made on June 18 and June 19 after preliminary discussions between the count, his wife and Mitchell on the question of separate beds.

Describing the count as a man of "violent and ungovernable temper," Sir Patrick said he threatened to shoot others and himself at one moment and at the next "was in tears and sometimes making long 'graceful' claims as a condition of leaving his wife."

The count, Sir Patrick continued, went to France to seek a "cure" treatment. He asked Mitchell to come to see him there. In Paris, Mitchell told him "separation was inevitable and that his wife was terrified of him."

"The Count raved a bit, and a gentleman was named, whom I shall not mention."

"He then burst into tears. He spent the whole day with Mitchell, alternating between tearfulness and threats and asking for various enormous sums of money which he seemed to think he required."

The attorney declared the Count spoke of shooting himself in order the people might know it was his wife's fault.

Mitchell, taking the witness stand, said the Count told him he was going to give the Countess "three years of hell with headlines."

Lance Made Ward After Dad's Threats

Sir Patrick quoted the count as saying he intended to seize the son of the two-year-old Lance Mitchell, returned to England and Lance was made a ward in chancery, putting him beyond control of either father or mother.

On cross-examination Mitchell denied that Barbara, now a Danish heiress, had offered to settle a divorce on the count and child if the count would permit a divorce.

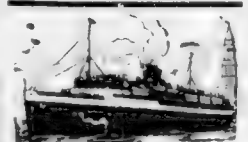

Mitchell, describing his first words with the count in Paris and the trial him.

"I am afraid I have had news for you," he replied "nothing like the bad news I have for you. My terms are the child and a fantastic sum."

Mitchell declared the count hastened back to London from Paris because he was apprehensive regarding meeting her said to me.

The witness continued: "It was talk about blackmail. He said I did not understand the beginning of the technique; that a lot of money could be made out of it if properly handled and that the only mistake he had made was in signing a New York deed."

Walsh, Doherty Attack 'Reds'

In bitter language, Senator David I. Walsh and Daniel Doherty of Woburn, national commander of the American Legion, today joined in a blast against Communism and other radical theories undermining American institutions.

Walsh, delivering Boston's oration at the annual observance of Independence Day in Faneuil Hall, named three types of Communists responsible for the present subversive influences in this country. They are, he said:

A group of Communist college graduates and professors—the most dangerous, for their philosophy is destroying the sanity of countless students; the numerically insignificant but vocally strenuous party members; and the small group between socialism and Russian backward Communism.

"The propaganda," he declared, "is carried into schools, colleges, labor societies, civic and fraternal units, business centers, youth centers, and, sad to relate, some religious bodies."

POINTS TO DANGER

"There is no danger we are facing today that is so menacing as revolution, propaganda and conspiracy, to the principles of thought and action of almost all the birth of this republic."

"These apostles of destruction are everywhere, spreading their gospel of hate and class unity, exhorting food, revolting religion and free worship, defaming the family, belittling the brotherhood of man, and, degrading every ideal sacred to us."

Walsh, in his address, pointed out the danger of the "Reds" in the United States, and the need for vigilance against their activities.

Doherty, in his address, also pointed out the danger of the "Reds" in the United States, and the need for vigilance against their activities.

He declared that the "Reds" were a threat to the American way of life, and that it was the duty of every citizen to stand up to them.

The Legion is not opposed to change," he said, "but we insist that these changes be along democratic lines."

Hurley Scores 'Liberals' Here

A speech by Senator Patrick J. Hurley, delivered in Boston, today scored the "liberals" who profess the doctrine that freedom means license. He declared that the restriction of the law of God because they deny God's existence.

"They have no respect for the laws of the land because they have no faith in our institutions. We know these people as Communists, atheists and revolutionaries."

He declared that the "liberals" were a threat to the American way of life, and that it was the duty of every citizen to stand up to them.

Price Cuts Explained By Haney

B. LEWIS HANEY

NEW YORK, July 5.—The recent rise in prices has been confusing to many people. Some prices have risen, others have fallen.

At the same time the commodity price averages have risen, there has been a jump in wage rates.

Some stocks have soared in the exchange, but the good companies have been slashing the price of their products and the price of the stock has not dropped.

As a result, the β coefficients are not statistically significant. A χ^2 test of the hypothesis that the β coefficients are all equal to zero yields a p -value of 0.0000, indicating that some of the β coefficients are different from zero. As a result, the following model is estimated:

1. The first step is to identify the key components of the system. This includes understanding the hardware, software, and data involved.

Communism Unmasked

The Editor Says: If European nations would seek the road to a lasting peace let them appoint a commission to come and study the IDEAL relations between the United States and Canada. Here they will find two peoples divided only by a line on a map.

The combined armies of these countries in a population of about 140,000,000 is NOT 200,000 MEN.

The United States and Canada are thus not only a REAL LEADER OF NATIONS in armaments but they represent a particular type of DISARMAMENT.

Professor James T. Sutherland of Columbia, in an address entitled "The International Significance of the Canadian-American Peace Tradition," at Orono, Me., said "the Canadian-American tradition was a living example for peace in the world today."

The European nations are separated from one another by vast seas and vast armies.

All the feet on the United States-Canadian border have been disarmed.

There is NO MILITARY FORCE on either side. There are no passport regulations. We trade, we visit, we profoundly respect one another although our systems of government are not naturally alike.

The United States and Canada are unique in world-history. For a hundred years not a cloud has appeared to mar our relations with the peaceful neighbor.

Europe, Asia and South America ought to profit by the fact that there ARE two countries in the world that can live side by side without fear.

That is not only REAL PROGRESS but an application of the fundamental principles of POLITICAL AND SOCIAL HUMANITARIANISM.

Let Europe throw down its sword and look to the west for guidance.

North America stands solidly for peace—a DEFENSIVE, DEMOCRATIC PEACE!

HARVARD'S AIM is well expressed by Lucius N. Littauer, donor of $2,250,000 to establish a Graduate School of Public Administration.

"The completion of the building to house the new school should point to the day when public office, in the hands of broadly educated and highly expert public administrators, will truly become a public trust."

Holding firmly to the ideals and traditions that have made America great in the past, the school which Mr. Littauer's philanthropy has made possible can and will do much to make this a happier and better country.

COTTON HOUSES are predicted by Dr. C. T. Marchant, president of the Cotton Textile Institute.

He peers into the future and sees a day when entire buildings, including floors, will be covered with cloth, especially woven and treated for the purpose.

And, always the optimist, he adds: "We are convinced that such houses will not only be constructed at considerably less cost than present houses of similar size, convenience and beauty, but that the experiment will open a vast new market for the output of our textile mills."

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 5. COLONEL Marvin McIntire's invasion of Georgia hasn't created nearly as much resentment as the late General Sherman's. For one thing it was a bit belated and when he placed the White House stamp on United States District Attorney Lawrence Camp, and sent through the great statehouse his creditors should send to the Senate instead of Walter George, the anti-court-packing man, there wasn't enough ink on his official pass.

Here in Savannah a factional fight for control of the city and of Chatham County, between Ross John J. Bohan's organization, which constitutes the "ins," and the Peoples Democratic Club, led by John G. Kennedy, the "outs," has got all mixed up in the Washington scheme to oust Senator George and gave the toga to Camp.

The Bohan group has been in control here for about 20 years and assuming it is going to be no easy task.

Not towards the end of May, before Colonel McIntire came to town to hand pick a White House senatorial candidate, the Bohan organization formally ousted Senator George.

What might have done it MacIntire did with more pep and vim at another election.

The effect was that the regular Democratic organization in Chatham County, usually headed by Senator George.

And the opposition faction is a something new.

The President will have an important job to do in the course of the campaign vote in this part of the country.

IT ALSO happens that in May, before Colonel McIntire's Georgia, he headed a march from Atlanta to the sea. Major James Jimmie, who was with him, said that the march was a "big thing."

The march was a "big thing" and it is now said in its attempt to fasten the New Deal as a permanent institution on this almost fanatical Democratic state.

So far as eastern Georgia is concerned there would not seem to be enough time to make up the lost ground.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

A TOAST to James Runyon, who in his column, "The Brighter Side," gave Calahad to that Forgotten Woman, the average wife right out loud, he declares that marriage is a 50-10 proposition in favor of the MAN, and that any man who does not favor matrimony is AN AWFUL SAPI.

He points out that, by marrying a man gets "a trusty partner . . . an audience and a yes-woman. He gets sympathy always on drought and a verbal punch-bag . . . a cook, a housemaid, a nurse and janitor all in one." And this, at least he would have to pay a clerk.

We'll, of course, not all men get ALL of those things; but most of us wives feel we fit into the picture, anyway. And as a description of the Ideal Wife, it ranks with Solomon's Song of Songs.

What of Today, Tomorrow Visions Policy Shift By Co-operative Banks

For many years the co-operative bank was interpreted as a medium through which to buy a home.

This, however, is only one of its purposes TODAY for it encourages savings and promotes thrift. With the help of Dr. Donald H. Davenport, associate professor of business statistics at the Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University, an analysis is made to show what a co-operative bank may mean to you TOMORROW.

By WILLIAM MICHELFELDER

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

What is co-operation?

To a banker who does business with you that is to make the voluntary union of persons for utilizing their resources.

As a co-operative banker he's interested in ORGANIZING CREDIT, and to distinguish himself from loan officers he reminds you that he is mainly concerned with THRIFT.

Co-operative banks flourish only where their members are able to utilize in their own individual business the money and credit made available.

For example:

A half-dozen men adopt a plan of issuing dividend paying shares. Assume each member buys a $500 share. That member is allowed one vote and officers are paid for their services.

In rural districts co-operative banks admit to membership country store merchants, school teachers, professors and those connected with agricultural pursuits.

In a word it is a group of persons who combine for mutual financial assistance.

Professor Davenport has studied the system described above which is operative TODAY but in his opinion may change in the future.

"A turning point has arrived in co-operative banking," said Dr. Davenport, "ESPECIALLY IN MASSACHUSETTS. Far-reaching decisions as to the basic structure of the bank must be made in the next few years."

UPON THESE DECISIONS WILL DEPEND TOMORROW'S PROSPERITY AND STATUS OF THE CO-OPERATIVE BANK.

"Since 1920 there have been currents, trends in the Massachusetts co-operative banking system and if THAT SYSTEM INSISTS ON COMPETING ON LIBERALITY OF LENDING WITH FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS, IT IS DOUBTFUL IF THEY CAN EXIST MUCH LONGER AS INDEPENDENT FROM THE STATE."

Professor Davenport believes it is ESSENTIAL NOW that co-operative banks rededicate themselves to promoting the HABIT OF THRIFT among working people, the logical and unique function for which they were organized.

A true-to-nature co-operative bank MUST BE COMPOSED OF MEMBERS HAVING THE SAME AIM: the bank may borrow and even receive deposit from outsiders, BUT IT MUST NEVER LEND TO THEM.

Professor Davenport continued: "Present restrictions on the extension of loans by co-operative banks MUST BE RETAINED AT ALL COSTS."

"We should clamp down on the which is operative TODAY but, issuance of certificates representing matured shares, making shares and share certificates.

"The issuance of such certificates DOES NOT ENHANCE THE THRIFT among people of SMALL INCOMES and leads to the adoption of lending policies involving greater risk than co-operative banks should assume."

The Professor pointed out that the length of time TRADITIONALLY required by co-operative banks for the maturity of serial shares does not harmonize with the present day requirements of the banks under discussion.

"I believe that maturities of two, three and five years would enable individuals to use these shares for accumulating funds to be used in the purchase of furniture, automobiles and other articles now customarily purchased on installment plan."

"THE EXISTING AMERICAN MEN TENDS TO LIMIT THE TYPE OF CO-OPERATIVE BANKS TO MEMBERS ACCUMULATING FUNDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF HOMES OR OTHER PROPERTY INVOLVING EXPENDITURES OF SIMILAR SIZE."

What makes a co-operative bank fail?

He said: "A bank meets a financial crisis, they frequently liquidate mortgages in an unbusinesslike way, and hence the amount of funds tied up in real estate was much larger than that for other banks."

"BANKS FAIL BY TOO RAPID EXPANSION. There is unwise extension of loans by the acquisition of funds through the purchase of unwarranted returns."

"And very important banks FAIL because they have reserves ratios distinctly lower than for all banks on the average."

The idea of co-operative banking was conceived by Herman Schulze-Deitrich and its FIRST EXPERIMENT was in Erlangen, Prussia.

It grew out of his plan to rescue carpenters and shoemakers from usury and to obtain money for them at fair prices, the SUCCESS of the experiment led to various plans for people's banks and credit societies based on co-operation for encouraging thrift.

Professor Davenport is considered one of the foremost authorities on business statistics in the United States and his advice and counsel is frequently sought to solve knotty business problems.

'Yankee Doodle' Written by British Surgeon

By IRVING LINDENBERG, M. D.

THE MEDICAL profession has every right to some pride in the record that was made during the Revolutionary war. There were a number of medical men who were a part of the Declaration of Independence among them Joshua Endicott and Matthew Thornton of New Hampshire, Oliver Wolcott of Vermont, Benjamin Rush of Pennsylvania and Lyman Hall of Georgia.

It is not generally known that it was a physician who wrote "Yankee Doodle." It is true that he was not an American nor did he ever become one. He was a surgeon in the British army Dr. Richard Schuchburgh. He died before the Declaration of Independence was composed or before the Revolutionary war began, in Schoenstadt in 1773. He was stationed with the British army during the Indian wars in the Mohawk valley and saw service there. He spent nearly all of his life in America.

"Yankee Doodle" was said to have been written in the old Van Henssler house near Albany, New York, close to the site of old Fort Crailo. The house was standing at least a year or two ago. Apparently Dr. Schuchburgh was very much amused by the rocky ways of Colonial Americans, and he also admired their fighting ability and their courage in battle. The tune was from an old English song known as the "Sally Row." The first verse he wrote was "Yankee Doodle in the tune." Americans delight in it.

"I will go to whistle, sing or play, And put the thing for fighting. When actual hostilities began between the British and the Colonial troops the tune was played first by way of contempt. We have this on the word of another medical man, James Innescher, whose "Military Journal" is the best authority we have for certain aspects of the Revolution.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven paragraphs of Dr. Lindenberg's story have been obtained by special arrangement with the author, and are being continued in this column. The paragraphs are: "Yankee Doodle" was said to have been written in the old Van Henssler house near Albany, New York, close to the site of old Fort Crailo. Apparently Dr. Schuchburgh was very much amused by the rocky ways of Colonial Americans, and he also admired their fighting ability and their courage in battle. YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL Restore Lost Oils of Youth to Complexion

By ARLINE GOULD

DID YOU ever dream that the time would come when you could replace in your skin the youth-cherishing oils which sun and time would steal away?

This may have been the glorious thought for many every day possible... but if you spent any time at all in the drying sun and wind, you've restitution of youth to make before your skin will look as though it, too, had a holiday.

In case you don't know—it's the combination of one part (eighth) of a baby-skin oil and three parts unsaturated fats that gives a baby's skin that dewy, delectable sheen.

It's what your skin loses as you gain in years. And it's the basic formula of a baby-skin oil you should use before and after exposure to drying elements if you want to stave off time's toll on your skin for many, many years.

This baby-skin oil is not rated as a cosmetic, and is not to be used as a sun-tan oil. It is a skin normalizer, intent on restoring to your complexion that which insures its crisp young freshness.

Oil content in your skin is the one thing that keeps it from wrinkling. And in these days of oil-depleted diets, you need such a replacement more than ever before.

Anyone who is reducing should double the ordinary supply of baby-skin oil, and let a lot of it soak in before you go to bed. Thereby, to do with skin, instead the skin will have a taut young clarity, and wrinkles will be eased away.

To learn the name of this amazing oil, which replaces an exact duplicate of youth-restoring oils found in an infant's skin, phone Arline Gould, L1875 4600, weekdays until five, or write her at the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MAKING UP IN PUBLIC

Making up in public may not be a social error, but the results are not satisfactory. With fortive dab of the rouge and powder pad, there are bound to be spotty effects. Putting on lip pigment requires a strong light, a strong mirror and a steady hand. Paint in haste and repent all the time.

Easy-to-Make Summer Frock

You'll find countless uses throughout the Summer for a simple frock like this one and if you're a wise young miss you'll make it up right away and be prepared for the first hot day. You'll love the cool bands that form the sleeves, and the trim

No Hope for Penurious Man

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

There is no fault so easily recognizable as penuriousness. A girl weighs all a young man's qualities and judges his good ones make up for this fault, she can make up for her fault. But that is the difference between a girl and a man.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I'd like to know how to handle this problem. I'm a girl of 19 and I've been going with a boy for three months. He has never taken me any place which has cost a penny. We go to parties at friends' houses, but of course that doesn't count.

I've entertained him at my home repeatedly. He's met all my friends and is very charming, and I'd still like to go with him, but I'm puzzled that he never gives me a "date" that costs anything.

UNHAPPY PRINCESS.

This friend of yours recalls Mr. Barks in Dickens' immortal "David Copperfield." Mr. Barks was a young man who was describing him, a little "mean." When they're near or close, not much can be done with them, as their stinginess is constitutional.

Some girls solve this problem by suggesting some entertainment for charity, where they buy the tickets for a cause.

Acknowledgments of Sympathy

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

My mother passed away last week and I am sending out personal acknowledgments of flowers and notes of sympathy. I do not know how they should be signed. I am married and have my father and a brother. Do I address the inside card too or just the envelope?

2—Should these cards be personal notes or formal cards?

1—These notes of thanks to relatives and close friends would be signed with your first name only. The ones to people whom you do not know very well but who are familiar with your formal name, would be signed

VERY SINCERELY YOURS,

CLAIRE BROWN WILLIAMS.

And there might well be ones that would have to carry your formal name as well, since you may be called on to write the acknowledgments to friends of your father and brother whom you personally might not know. If there are such notes, sign them

VERY SINCERELY YOURS,

CLAIRE BROWN WILLIAMS.

(MRS. JOHN WILLIAMS)

2 It is by far the best form to write personal notes for these acknowledgments of notes of sympathy and of flowers. Formal cards are frigid acknowledgments of such warm-hearted messages.

Change 'Rock' Bet Breakage

CONCORD, N. H., July 5 (AP)—A new ruling on the handling of breakage at the Rockingham Park race track, under which the better would get more and the track less, particularly on some $5 and $10 bets, was made known today by the New Hampshire Racing Commission.

Ralph H. George, chairman of the commission, said the track, scheduled to open next Monday, had requested a ruling and one had been drawn up by Attorney-General Thomas P. Cheney.

Cheney held, in effect, that breakage—the odd amount over even money—should not be deducted until the amount a bettor would win on a $1 bet had been multiplied by the number of dollars he bet.

REDUCE BREAKAGE

Racing Commission officials here gave as an example an instance where the betting pool would return $1.97 for a $1 bet. The amount returned would be the same under the new and old systems. On a $2 wager, the pool would show $3.94 for $2, and a breakage of four cents would be deducted.

On a $5 or $10 bet under the new ruling, however, the bettor would get $9.82 or $19.70, whereas the amount returned to him would have been less if the two cents breakage over $1.95 had been deducted before the multiplication.

A case now is pending before the Massachusetts Supreme Court in which Judge Louis S. Green of the East Cambridge District Court, ruled the old system of breakage in Massachusetts must be scrapped and a new one instituted. The suit was brought by John L. Feeney of the New England Anti-Gambling Association.

$400,000 HIT

Feeney claimed the breakage was deducted on the basis of the amount to be returned on a $1 bet and before the multiplication by the number of dollars bet. His case was known as "the ten cent suit." Feeney contended that Judge Green's ruling, if upheld, would cost horse and dog tracks $400,000 a year.

Subway Series Looming

By Associated Press

If you're a New York fan and a believer in baseball tradition, you can look forward with some confidence today to a repetition of the "subway" World Series of the last two years. If you're a Cleveland or Pittsburgh follower, you have just about as much ground for hoping to see your team on top.

The old rule, honored as much in the breach as in the observance, is that the team on top after July 4 is the one that will win the pennant. But it doesn't account for a tie, nor does it allow for a team that's going as if it couldn't be stopped.

The Indians were saved or the Yankees were "ribbed"—according to how you look at it—when New York and Washington wound up for a 4-4 tie after 10 innings of their second game yesterday. The Yanks had won the first, 10-5, for their ninth straight victory.

Cleveland, running into the Detroit Tigers, who were smoldering from three losses at St. Louis, took a double setback, 7-3 and 5-2. The net result was to leave the Yanks and the Indians tied for the lead, each with 41 victories and 23 losses.

On the National League side the Giants preserved their lead by walloping their "cousins," the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-0 and 16-1. But Pittsburgh's Pirates, moving up under full steam, defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1 and 3-2. That gave them seven straight triumphs and 20 games won by one-run margins this season.

Led by Joe DiMaggio, who made three hits in each game, including a homer in the second, the Yanks hit hard and often until they met up with Pete Appleton in the extra innings. Pete came in after the Senators had tied the score in the ninth and hurled no-hit ball until Darkness forced a halt.

Landis Names All-Star Umpires

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced today umpires for the all-star game tomorrow in Cincinnati would be:

Harry Geisel and Steve Basil for the American League.
William Klein and Lee Ral-lanfant for the National League.

Blue Marvel, Best At Downs--Wilson

Bugle Ann Gets Call In Opener

By DAVID WILSON

Selections for fast track
BEST BET—BLUE MARVEL.

The Miss Mary Hirsch trained Blue Marvel has been working in sensational manner, and with the aid of No. 8, who will run as a stablemate, looks as the safest wagering hazard of the day on the Suffolk card.

FIRST RACE

Bugle Ann, Joeie V. L., Muggins
BUGLE ANN who made her first appearance on an off track, the last time out, didn't care for that strip and finished last. A fast track is only needed for her to turn back on opposition. JESSE V. L., a recent winner, gets a good figure. MUGGINS, if sent back today, rates as a possibility.

SECOND RACE

Marienne, Royal Bird, Moon Harvest
Freshened up since nice effort to Nellie Mc and Story Time, MARIENNE will have Jockey Scheib up and it should prove to be the winning combination. ROYAL BIRD has rounded in to best form and rates a good chance. MOON HARVEST rates an outside chance.

THIRD RACE

Sought After, Deep Rock, Invigler
Recent form stamps SOUGHT AFTER as the likely winner of this poor lot. DEEP ROCK has been close up and should hold INVEIGLER safe.

FOURTH RACE

Phalasan, Bright and Early, Crowing Glory
PHALASAN's best effort would be enough to turn back this small but select field. BRIGHT AND EARLY, an Agawam winner, will be hard to beat. CROWING GLOEY is the best of the others.

FIFTH RACE

Lady Infinite, Brilliant Play, Warlike
LADY INFINITE only needs a snug ride to lead from flag fall to finish. BRILLIANT PLAY, a surprise winner in good company, rates a good chance. SPEEDY WALKER may hang on long enough to share in the spoils.

SIXTH RACE

Blue Marvel, No Sir, Natty Boy
IF BLUE MARVEL falters, NO SIR, a stablemate, could take it all. NATTY BOY is picking up a tough assignment in carrying 119 pounds but can't be overlooked.

SEVENTH RACE

Tapstick, Joe D., Dim Hope
The magic couple selects TAP-STACK as the winner over this erratic field. JOE D. may like this dist. race. DIM HOPE is improving steadily.

EIGHTH RACE

Brass Monkey, Bogertin, Joy Flag
BRASS MONKEY should get up in time to grab the early leaders in this nightcap affair. BOGERTIN will be the one to beat. JOY FLAG is a money possibility.

Paul Donato of Boston finished second with a time of 2 hours, 14 minutes, 49.1 seconds. Lou Wille of Colorado Springs was third.

Darrat took the lead at the start of the race and was never headed. He held the record for the run up Mt. Washington in New Hampshire.

Collings Kin Hails Arrest Hint

Announcement that an arrest was expected today in Connecticut's Benjamin P. Collings yacht-slaying mystery of seven years ago was hailed as "great news" by the victim's father-in-law, wealthy Hermann P. Chelius of Moultrie street, Dorchester.

He revealed the fact that private investigators have been probing the killing, at his expense, ever since the unsolved crime was committed at Milford Beach, near Stamford, Ct., September 9, 1931.

"Bringing the slayers to justice won't give poor Ben his life back," Chelius said, "but my orders to my detectives were to stay on the job until they got results."

Chelius said he doubted that his daughter, Mrs. Lillian Collings, had been asked to go to Connecticut to identify a new suspect in the murder.

According to her original story to police, she saw the killers when they boarded her husband's yacht, the Penguin, on the night of the tragedy.

"Lillian is vacationing on Cape Cod," Chelius said. "She probably hasn't yet heard of developments at Stamford."

Selling Hits Stocks for $1-$3 Losses

Brokers said the turn to the downside was to have been expected after the upswing since June 20, one of the fastest in the history of Wall Street, when dealers contracted on the re-

In addition, he described how the countess, the former Barbara Hutton of the Woolworth millions, had empowered him to effect a financial settlement on the count "within a limit of 100,000 pounds" ($500,000) after he had allegedly threatened her life and spoke of "shooting like a dog" the unidentified man whom he suspected.

The count was quoted as saying he had been "insulted" by an offer of $250,000 from the countess. The court also was told he did not consider the countess' London mansion, Winfield House, as a suitable place for their son, Lance, to be raised.
